

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

It is my understanding that in the United States there are laws against monopolies to keep service industries from exploiting their customers. Large media corporations continue to devour other corporations and put opinions, control, and dollars in fewer and fewer pockets. The FCC's job is to protect media diversity. Instead, you seem hell-bent upon stamping it out. Any government agency going to great lengths to serve its own interests as well as prop up corporate monopolization is greatly overstepping its bounds. Get in line, FCC, and protect the interests of the PUBLIC and NOT CORPORATIONS!
